Join an active social and creative network at the largest contemporary crafts centre in the South West

Devon Guild of Craftsmen is an educational charity which seeks to inspire creative excellence through contemporary craft. With participation at its core, the Guild promotes the highest standards of craftsmanship and design and develops opportunities for everyone to appreciate craft and learn through making. Over 120,000 visitors come to Riverside Mill each year to see high quality national and international contemporary craft in the exhibitions areas and the work of the best makers from the South West in the shop and gallery. The Guild relies on the proceeds from the shop and café to support the charity and needs your support to continue the educational work and to sustain our historic building, the Riverside Mill.

Our packed annual programme offers many opportunities to become involved.

You can also help us by assisting in the shop or at exhibitions or donating/fundraising for our Raise the Roof Appeal which will preserve our Grade II listed building for future generations to enjoy.

The Guild is a registered educational charity no 296568

Friends' support and subscriptions help the Guild by

- enabling us to reach over 2,000 school children annually, through our Big Hand, Little Hand scheme, which places makers on residencies in local schools and colleges
- enabling us to put on an on-going programme of talks, workshops and social events
- enabling us to maintain a high quality, dynamic exhibition programme
- enabling us to establish a national profile for the Guild and the makers it represents and encouraging a strong South West crafts culture
- assisting us to develop our marketing, fundraising, social networks and presence in the community

An important part of achieving our vision is engaging with audiences of all ages. Our Big Hand Little Hand scheme places professional makers in schools and colleges. Through these residencies, we aim to foster sensory and motor skills, build confidence and materials knowledge, and encourage the development of imagination and ideas in young people of all backgrounds, including those with special needs. We also support and advise craftspeople in developing their businesses, whether they are newly graduated, embarking upon a second career or established makers.

Outreach work in schools including regular artist placements and a professional development commitment have helped the regions' makers and creativity establish and flourish. We have recently been awarded a Quality Badge by the Council for Learning Outside the Classroom which recognises our consistently outstanding education work.
