Thank you for choosing to eat or shop at the Devon Guild today. Your generosity is helping to fund our educational work and keeps our venue free entry. You can make a donation too - every little helps. We have charity boxes, Gift-Aid and a Friends' scheme. Ask at the cafe counter. Thank-you!

The Devon Guild is an educational charity which needs to raise £200,000 every year to fulfil its charitable purpose. As a national centre of excellence for contemporary craft, we exist to promote the highest standards of craftmaking and design. We have around 300 Members from the South West who work across many craft disciplines: from jewellery to print-making and glass-blowing to bookbinding. The Guild also provides regular professional development opportunities for Members.

Our three exhibition spaces host around 20 exhibitions a year. 130,000 people visit and 13,000 take part in free craft activities. Our outreach education programme involves communities across the region, including groups which would not otherwise get the chance to participate in craft - including residents of care homes, refugees and young carers. It's our mission to support and develop craft-making skills for everyone. We can see that designing and creating helps to empower people, increase their confidence and wellbeing, and will inspire an enduring love of craft.

OUR FOOD

We prepare almost all of our food here. Our chef Mark and the team carefully create dishes for you to enjoy every day, sourcing the best local and seasonal ingredients wherever possible. We'd love to hear what you think. Please share any comments or suggestions you may have with the team.

OUR TEAM

The Terrace Café team all live locally, and keep the counter full of hand-made cakes and bakes. You'll find our lovely cafe staff either prepping, cleaning and cooking behind the scenes, or out front - serving with a smile and keeping everything running smoothly.

OUR HISTORY

A small group of makers, led by Edward Baly, founded The Devon Guild in 1955. They were enthusiastic about promoting the best in regional craftwork and regularly exhibited together. The Guild purchased Riverside Mill as a permanent base in 1986. In fact - it was never a mill! It was built as stabling and outbuildings for John Divett, whose house was opposite (you may remember it as The Riverside Inn pub) - and is now the Co-op.

INFORMATION & HOW TO ORDER

Welcome to The Terrace Café at the Devon Guild of Craftsmen.
We take pleasure in cooking all our food to order and almost everything is made in our kitchen from scratch.
We hope you enjoy your meal.

OUR SPECIALS CHANGE DAILY,
PLEASE SEE THE BOARDS FOR DETAILS

WHEN YOU ARE READY, PLEASE TAKE A
NOTE OF YOUR TABLE NUMBER AND ORDER
AT THE TILL

We take food intolerances and allergies very seriously. All our food is prepared in a kitchen where nuts, gluten and other allergens are present. Our menu descriptions do not always include all these ingredients.

Please speak to a member of our team about the ingredients in any of our dishes and we will be happy to guide you through the menu.
