The Devon Guild is an educational charity which needs to raise £200,000 every year to fulfil its charitable purpose. We exist to promote the highest standards of craftsmanship and design as a national centre of excellence for contemporary craft. We have around 300 Members from the South West who work across craft disciplines: from jewellery to print-making; glass to bookbinding. The Guild also provides regular professional development opportunities for Members.

Our three exhibition spaces host around 20 exhibitions a year. 130,000 people visit and 13,000 take part in free craft activities. Our outreach education programme involves communities across the region, including groups which would not otherwise get the chance to participate in craft including residents of care homes, refugees and young carers. We support the development of skills to empower people, increase confidence and wellbeing, and to inspire an enduring love of craft.

Thank you for choosing to eat or shop at The Devon Guild today. Your generosity is helping to fund our educational work and free access to craft.

OUR FOOD

We prepare almost all of our food here. Mark and the team carefully create dishes for you to enjoy every day, sourcing the best local and seasonal ingredients wherever possible. We'd love to hear what you think. Please share any comments or suggestions you may have with the team.

OUR TEAM

Mark trained as a chef at Cornwall's Nare Hotel. He has travelled the world which inspires him to create the dishes you see here today. He's joined in The Terrace Café by a dedicated team who all live locally.

Izzy keeps the counter full of amazing cakes and bakes. Charlie helps in the kitchen, and Jade, Lorraine & Sally keep things running smoothly out front.

OUR HISTORY

A small group of makers, led by Edward Baly, founded The Devon Guild in 1955. They were enthusiastic about promoting the best in regional craftwork. The Guild purchased Riverside Mill in 1986. In fact, this was never a mill. It was built as stabling and outbuildings for John Divett. His house was next door which became The Riverside Inn and is now the Co-op.

WHEN YOU ARE READY, PLEASE TAKE A NOTE OF YOUR TABLE NUMBER AND ORDER AT THE TILL

We take food intolerances and allergies very seriously. All our food is prepared in a kitchen where nuts, gluten and other allergens are present. Our menu descriptions do not always include all these ingredients.

Please speak to a member of our team about the ingredients in any of our dishes and we will be happy to guide you through the menu.
